

1. First, you could choose different "View", which corresponding in the subsequent transformation test on different view.
2. Second, you could slide the range to achieve the 2d transformation on each elevation of the house. And the "Value" on the right side of the range indicate the transformation value you apply to the elevation.